May Cancel the Concessions

Granted by Ex-president Diaz to all the Foreigners

MEAT TRUST STARTS TROUBLE

Butchers of Guadalajara Hold Public Meeting at Independence Monument and With Cards Bearing Inscription "Down With the Monopoly" Marched to Royal Palace to Lay Complaint Before Governor. Prompt Investigation Is Promised.

Guadalajara, Mexico, July 3.—Manifestations against foreign interests are becoming of about daily occurrence here, and vigorous campaign is being waged by followers of the political leaders against American and other foreign enterprises that are operating concessions granted by the preceding administration. In one of these demonstrations just made here the men engaged in the meat business in this city and scores of others gathered at the Independence Monument plaza, pinned on their hats signs reading "Abajo El Monopolio," "Down with the monopoly," and marched to the government palace to register a formal protest against the Pacific Docking company and an American concern which, in January last, inaugurated here the most modern meat packing plant in Mexico. A committee was sent to confer with the provisional governor, and a demand for the abrogation of the concession under which the plant was built was made. Governor Gutierrez Altamirano told the committee he would make an investigation.

TRAIN HITS WAGON; FIVE ARE KILLED

Three Meet Death In as Many Auto Accidents.

New York, July 3.—In a Long Island railroad grade crossing accident at the point where the Rockaway Beach branch of the railroad crosses Wood Haven avenue, in Glen Dale, five people who were riding in a wagon were killed and the sixth person in the wagon and the train conductor were severely injured. All those who were killed were members of a family party that were assembling for the afternoon on the farm of Isadore Goldberg.

BAD DAY FOR AUTOS

Two Drivers Killed in Vicinity of Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, July 3.—As a result of two automobile accidents near Pittsburgh two persons were killed. A large touring car containing four persons became unmanageable through a defect in the steering gear as it was being driven through Clintonville and tumbled completely over, resulting in the death of the driver, Earl Stanley, and injuring seriously John Hobbs and William Hutchinson.

While traveling from Hickory to Racoon, an automobile containing W. E. Metz, Harry Airdale, Martin Callis and Charles Callis, jumped a 100-foot embankment 10 miles west of Hickory. Metz was caught under the car when it turned turtle and instantly killed.

Killed in Auto Accident.

Dunkirk, N. Y., July 3. An automobile accident occurred at Angok, in which Dr. Samuel Sigler of Greenville, Pa., was killed and three others seriously but not fatally injured.

TEN DEATHS DUE TO HEAT IN NEW YORK

New York, July 3.—With heat records for New York for 12 years smashed the metropolis is today sweltering with an intensity unparalleled. Ten deaths directly due to the heat are already reported. Every indication points to a bigger death list than that of yesterday, when ten succumbed.

CHOLERA

Scare Stirred Auburn, N. Y.

Baptist Preacher Started the Panic From His Pulpit

REPORTS TWO MORE DEATHS

Story Soon Denied by Authorities in Charge of Situation Resulting From Death of Newly-Arrived Italian Immigrant in Boarding House—Other Inmates Quarantined in Tuberculosis Hospital—Several Men Who Were Exposed Have Disappeared.

Auburn, N. Y., July 3.—When Rev. J. A. W. Bourne of the First Baptist church, in concluding a prayer for the persons who had been exposed to the cholera, stated that two additional victims had died, he started something which nearly resulted in a panic. The people stopped to discuss the alarming news outside the church and it spread with surprising rapidity. At the Osborne House, where both Drs. Thomas G. Sawyer and A. F. Hodgman of the local health department and Dr. W. S. McGill of Albany, representing the state board of health, and Dr. Edward Francis of Washington, of the United States marine hospital service, were holding a conference, the rumor was received. The physicians made full investigation and declared emphatically that there was absolutely no truth in it.

All of the inmates of the two Italian boarding houses were removed to the new municipal hospital for tuberculosis. The institution has just been completed and was not yet in use. The state department of health advised isolation of all of the suspects and they were transported to the new hospital.

Fears Several at Large.

Court Interpreter James Ray, the Italian leader here, after an investigation stated that he feared there were a number of exposed persons who were able to evade quarantine. When the cholera victim, Tomaso Birardi, reached Auburn he was greeted by his two brothers, Vito and Frank, and a party of friends who had known him in Italy. They embraced and kissed each other in the manner of Italians, and after shopping in the business section for a few hours returned to the colony, where they ate and drank together in a happy reunion. When the cholera victim became ill all remained with him and offered him their crude ministrations.

Several of these young men are said to have gone from Auburn. The local and out-of-town officials, however, predict that no further cases will result.

CANNIBALS IN GERMAN COLONY

Berlin, July 3.—That cannibalism exists in the German colony of Cameroons is proved by an official report issued concerning a recent punitive expedition against the natives of the southern districts of the colony known as the tribes of the Makas. Cannibals in the full sense of the word, the Makas live chiefly on human flesh, and, unlike most savage tribes in Africa, they do not even respect their own dead, but eat their fathers and brothers, wives and sisters, friends and relatives without the least hesitation. When the supply of corpses among their own tribes runs short they purchase slaves from other tribes and fatten them until they are fit to be slaughtered. Then they are killed and eaten.

To purchase slaves and keep them until they are sufficiently fat to make good meals is considered a luxury, which only the wealthier members of the tribe can enjoy, the poorer Makas having to content themselves with eating the bodies of slain enemies.

Bradey Ridenbaugh Is Identified As Bold Hold-up Man

In a preliminary hearing before Mayor Ankley, Bradey Ridenbaugh was identified by Henry H. Brown as the clerk as being one of the men who entered the Elks' residence several weeks ago in an attempt to hold up the commission and the family. Brown Ankley, however, said through a common pleas court under $500 bond.

STROBEL AIRSHIP FAILS TO PUT IN APPEARANCE AT BUCKEYE LAKE PARK

Greatly to the disappointment of the thousands of people who assembled at Buckeye Lake Park on Sunday to witness the first of the eight days' aviation meet, the aeroplane failed to materialize. The management of the park received a telegram late Saturday evening from Chas. J. Strobel of Toledo, whose machine was to make the flight, that owing to several accidents last week, he had no machine to send to the park. The disappointment to Manager Harris was great, as he had extensively advertised in the surrounding country and in all the adjacent cities. One of Mr. Strobel's machines—the one that was to fly at the park—was wrecked during a flight at the centennial at Coshington last week, and the owner of the aeroplane said he had no nearer machine available than Calgary, Canada, and it was an impossibility to bring it in time for any exhibition. A large tent had been erected for the aviators and everything was in readiness at the park for the first aerial exhibition. When the telegram was received containing the cancellation, Mr. Harris at once wired Mr. Strobel to put some one on the ground at any cost. However, the answer was final that every effort had been made to get a machine for the lake, but that it was an utter impossibility.

TEAM KILLED AT B. & O. CROSSING AT CHURCH STREET EARLY TODAY

Shortly before 6 o'clock Monday morning a team of horses owned by Mr. W. R. Swartz, who is engaged in the feed business on South Fifth street, and which were being driven by Mr. Homer Bodle, a well known young man of this city, while in the act of crossing the Church street crossing, were struck by the engine of freight train No. 31. One of the horses was instantly killed while the other was so badly injured that it had to be shot. The wagon was completely demolished and Mr. Bodle had a narrow escape from death. Baltimore and Ohio freight No. 31, south bound, was coming into the city, and was in charge of Engineer J. W. Pyle and Conductor Woodard and stopped near the Church street crossing. Fireman McCleary and the brakemen went down to the yard office to see how soon they could get down to the yard and upon gaining the information desired went back to the train. Just as the train had started, Mr. Bodle, who was driving east on Church street, attempted to cross the tracks ahead of the engine and a cut of two cars, but was struck and run down. Mr. Bodle saved his life by catching hold of a hand hold on one of the cars. Mr. Bodle claims that when he attempted to cross the tracks the engine bell was not ringing and there was no one on the cut of cars. Railroad men and others, however, claim that the engine was running very slow and the bell was ringing.

LICKING COUNTY GIRL A HELEN KELLER AND CAN OPERATE A TYPEWRITER

Pataskala, July 3.—Blind and deaf, Miss Maude Wickliff of this village, is in many respects a Helen Keller. Self-educated largely, she enjoys many of life's pleasures and comforts. Her disposition is winning. In thoughtful kindness and in several accomplishments she sets an example for those more fortunate than herself. As a tribute from friends, a post card shower has been arranged in her honor for Wednesday, July 5, her thirty-first birthday anniversary. These cards she will be unable to see, but they will be described to her.

One of her accomplishments is ability to operate a typewriter. Recently upon being asked to give a sketch of herself, she wrote the following on her machine:

"Having been asked for a little sketch of my life, I now write down a few facts about myself and what I have accomplished, which, though it seems very little in comparison to what other deaf-blind have done and are doing, has at least brought comforting rays of sunshine into my heart, enabling me to bear my sad lot with some degree of cheerfulness.

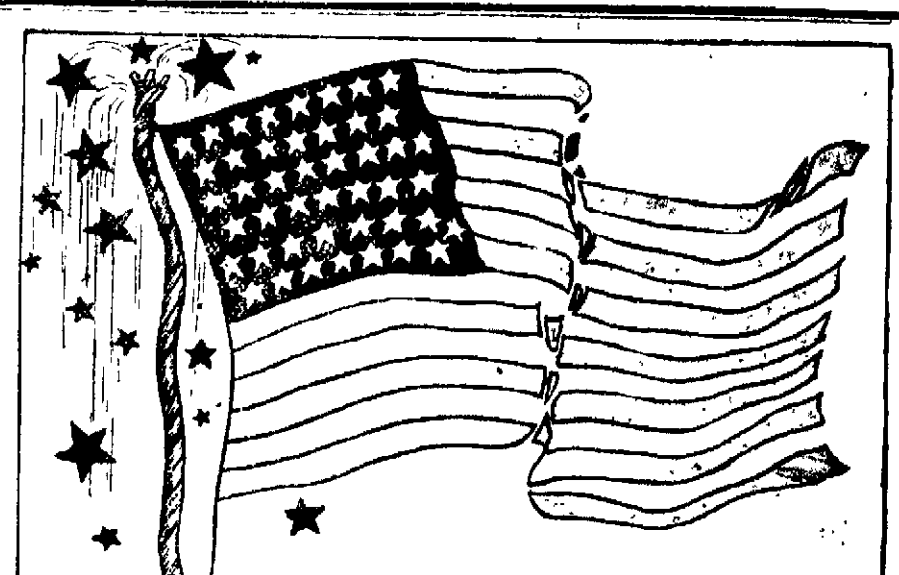

"I was born in Licking county, O., on the 5th day of July, 1880. My mother died when I was little more than 2 years old, leaving me in the care of her parents, and especially of her only sister, to whom I owe both a mother's care and a mother's love. I was never healthy and strong, and for this reason and because my sight was always defective, I never attended school. However, I was taught to read at a very early age, and I remember that I made quick work of my first reader.

"I was very fond of reading from the start, but I must confess that I cared little for study. Nor was study ever forced upon me. As a child I was thought to be good at reciting, and I frequently appeared at public gatherings where speaking was in order. I also gave a few entertainments myself, assisted by my brother. My one ambition then was to make the stage the scene of my life work.

"But all my hopes of such a career were shattered when, at the age of 9, I suddenly and completely lost my hearing, which had been perfect up to that time.

"I need not say how sad and lonely my life was after that. But I did enjoy one blessing. My sight was for some years much improved, so that I could keep myself company a good part of the time by reading. Gradually, however, my sight also failed. Then I learned to read by touch. That was nearly ten years ago. I first learned to read line letter; later to read and write the New York point system. Alphabets and writing materials were furnished by the State school for the Blind and friends helped me. I am particularly grateful to the late Mr. A. H. Brice, a blind gentleman, for the practical assistance and kindly encouragement he gave me.

Columbus, July 2. John H. Robey of Etna, received a message last night that his brother Harley, who lives in Seward, Neb., was shot and killed Saturday night. He was 22 years old and an Odd Fellow. Formerly he had lived in Columbus, and also near Etna, where he farmed. No information concerning the details of the crime was contained in the message.

THE PATRIOTIC TWINS

By T. SAPP, JR.

WE are the patriot twins.
Soon as The Day begins,
I, says the Cracker,
Begin to pop,
And I, says the Flag,
Begin to flop;
And we flop and pop,
And we do not stop
Till the pop-u-lace
Is about to drop.

WE are the patriots twain.
Aren't we safe and sane?
I, says the Flag,
I always fly
A wee bit prouder
The Fourth o' July,
And I, says the Cracker,
I crack some louder
With patriot powder—
I am not shy.
And we'll always be
For the Land o' the Free
The patriots two—
Hooray! Hooroo!

DIEGEL JURY IS STILL OUT AT NOON TODAY

Columbus, July 3. At 9:29 o'clock this morning the jury which is to decide the fate of Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Rodney J. Diegel appeared before Judge Kinkead and asked for additional instructions on the diagraph evidence, the telephone conversation alleged to have taken place between Detective Smith and Senator Coto, and the alleged conversation between Diegel and Senator Andrews. The judge then ordered the testimony having to do with that part of the evidence read from the court records and the jury then retired again.

At 9:30 they had been out just 61 hours. The length of time consumed by the Diegel jury in trying to arrive at a verdict is unprecedented in the history of Franklin county courts. Also the action of Judge Kinkead in sending the jury back at 11 o'clock Saturday night for further deliberation after the foreman positively announced that there was no possible hope of agreement is without precedent. The strain is beginning to tell on Diegel. He keeps up a bold front and seemingly tries to dismiss care by joking. But the lines of worry on his face are plain.

PROTEST

Raised by Germany's Act

France is Unable to Comprehend the Late Agadir Incident

PAPERS DEMAND QUICK ACTION

Government is Paralyzed Through Downfall of Monis Ministry—Recent Movements of Spaniards in Morocco Should Have Been Noticed, Declares the Temps—English Press Excited and Bubbles Over With Adjectives at Kaiser's Action.

Paris, July 3.—French politicians are asking each other whether Germany's sudden move against Agadir is not comparable to the visit made by the Kaiser to Tangier which preceded the Algeiras treaty. She recognizes the acumen shown by Germany in making the move at the time when a new ministry has come into power and President Fallieres is on the eve of visiting Holland. Should Foreign Minister De Sels accompany the president, as did M. Pichon when Fallieres went to Belgium, it will be meant as a reply to the Germanization of northern Europe.

The parliamentary government is suffering a paralysis because of the statement made by ex-Minister of War Goiran, which brought about the downfall of the Monis ministry. The country at large is ill at ease because England, her friend, is occupied with a constitutional crisis and hampered by the seamen's strike. "It is now recalled that two months ago a German news agency reported that Germany was to send three warships to Morocco. Herr Kiderlin von Wachter, the German foreign minister, protested vehemently that the rumor was not true.

Temps Places Blame. The Temps blames the French government for allowing Spain to act at Larache and Elksar without noticing the fact, thereby appearing to be an accomplice and giving the German press an opportunity to allege that France and Spain had come to a secret agreement to share Morocco. Now France is accusing Germany of instigating Spain's policy. The Temps, the Liberte and the Garou declare that France's first step should be to send a warship to Agadir.

London Is Credulous. London, July 3.—If the whole German high seas fleet had bombarded Tangier and blown it in the air it could hardly have excited the London press more than has the arrival of the little Panther and her crew of 125 at Agadir. Such adjectives as dramatic, startling, serious grave, are applied to Germany's action and the situation created thereby. Even the few nonanti-German newspapers are shocked into garrulosity and loaded type. There is, however, no outburst of abuse, although Germany's plea that her interests are endangered is frankly not believed.

FIVE CAR LOADS OF LIVE SNAKES

San Francisco, July 3.—Southern Pacific freight officials have just handled out of Eastern New Mexico, Northern Mexico and Western Texas a shipment of five car loads of live snakes delivered to Baltimore, Chicago, Cincinnati and Boston, and also to New York for re-shipment to European points.

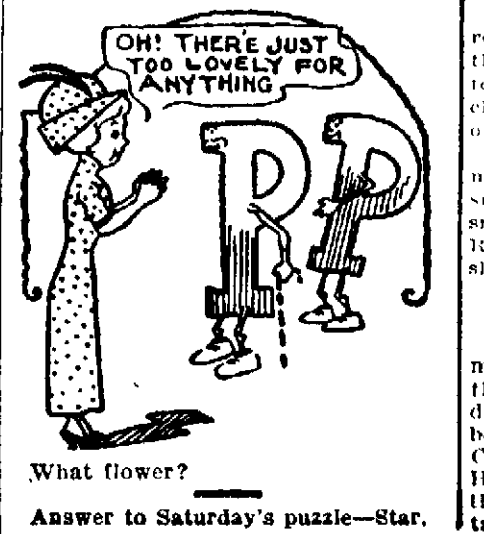

The snakes number 1,700 and represented 24 different species. In length they are all the way from five to 25 feet. The majority of the reptiles were classed as deadly and were so marked on the boxes.

The shipment represented about 10 months' work on the part of the consignors, who are said to be famous snake collectors of the valley of the Rio Grande. It cost $300 per car to ship them.

WOMAN PILOT WINS

Lorain, July 3.—Piloted by a woman, Miss Eda Graves of Cleveland, the motorboat Phyllis won the handicap race of the Cleveland Powerboat Club from Gordon Park Pier, Cleveland, to the mouth of Lorain Harbor yesterday. The pilots of all the other boats were men. The distance was 30 miles.

WHAT IS IT?

What flower?
Answer to Saturday's puzzle—Star.

GUARANTEE FUND NOW AMOUNTS TO $1215.50

The guarantee fund of $1500 was almost completed within the time limit set by the directors and committee. When the tabulation of the figures was completed Sunday morning it was found that a total of $1215.50 had been subscribed and paid into the hands of the treasurer.

It was hoped that the entire amount would be raised and could be deposited in the bank before President Carson arrived, but in spite of the tireless efforts of members of the soliciting committee the entire $1500 could not be gotten in in time.

A number of persons who are being relied upon for a donation have not given their answers yet and it is the hope of the committee that these answers, when given, will materially lighten the work required to finish up the fund.

The committee members are out this morning, working hard to close the matter up. It was the intention to have all the money in the bank before the first game was played, so the Central League could not say that Newark did not fulfill her part of the contract.

A number of substantial contributions were received Saturday afternoon, which helped swell the total to the amount given above.

The work is not finished yet, and those members of the committee who could do so, were hard at work again this morning, making a big effort to finish up the fund before noon.

TWO GAMES AT WEHRLE PARK TOMORROW JULY 4

Two great games of baseball will be played at Wehrle Park tomorrow, this being the only holiday engagement Newark has left on the schedule. The first game will be called at 10 o'clock in the morning and the second at the usual time in the afternoon.

There are no airship flights at Buckeye Lake Park, the manager of the aerial booking agency having wired the park management that his only airship in this part of the country was demolished at Coshocton.

Many Newark people who intended to go to the lake to see the airship flights will now remain at home and see some real amusement at Wehrle Park.

The new Newark team is playing splendid ball, having won two games Sunday from Evansville. There is no doubt about the class of ball the Newark team is able to play and it is merely a matter of giving the players the right amount of encouragement. Since the transfer to Newark has played wonderful ball, considering the fact that they have been in hostile territory for the last week.

The players who were in poor form have rounded to and every player able to be with the team at all is playing snappy ball and is showing more spirit every day.

Eddie Asher, in conversation with a number of Newark men who witnessed the Dayton-Zanesville game at Zanesville yesterday, said that it was his opinion that the Newark team was as good as any in the league, if not the best. He expressed his wish to become a member of the team.

HAMILTON, PRESIDENT, M'DANIELS SECRETARY OF NEW DIRECTORATE

A meeting of the board of directors which will have control of the new Central League baseball organization in Newark, met and elected officers yesterday.

George Hamilton was named president of the board and Emmett McDaniels secretary and treasurer. Each officer was chosen with the unanimous consent of the board, although Mr. Hamilton modestly refused to vote for himself.

Mr. Hamilton is a man of unlimited energy and determination. His executive ability, displayed many times in various ways, will be of valuable assistance to this new board, the members of which are green in the baseball business.

The new secretary-treasurer, Emmett McDaniels, is too well known to Newark fans to need any introduction or eulogy. He has been a booster ever since coming to town and he was one of those active in the attempt to promote the last booster's day for Harry Kiehn, and which it is doubtful if that gentleman appreciated.

Mack works just as hard for the new proposition and in fact he has been working harder, for he realizes that it's up to the little fellows now. For a few days he will be a busy man, until the guarantee fund and the booster's ticket fund is straightened out. There is a vast amount of work to be done and Mack is well qualified to take it up.

A number of matters of more or less importance came up for consideration before the board. The most important matter was the lease on the ball grounds. The new organization must make a satisfactory arrangement with Mr. Wehrle regarding the use of the ball lot for the balance of the season. This can no doubt be easily accomplished.

James Monroe as a Patriot

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.
(Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.)

OF the three presidents who died on the 4th of July Monroe was the only one who had not signed the Declaration. The other two, Jefferson and John Adams, were on the committee that drafted the document. Monroe was then a boy of only eighteen and that very year ran away from college to become a Revolutionary soldier.

In view of his conspicuous services for liberty, not only in the United States, but in all North and South America, the memory of James Monroe has been much neglected by his countrymen. He played the chief part in negotiating the Louisiana purchase and in obtaining Florida; he was instrumental in bringing about the war of 1812 and was the most conspicuous single factor, not excepting Madison, in prosecuting it to a successful conclusion. He brought about the residered Washington's reactionary and monarchical tendencies and even went against his best friend, Madison, when he thought Madison was being led too much in the direction of centralized government. Monroe joined Patrick Henry and George Mason in fighting the adoption of the constitution because he thought it opposed to the rights of the people. Though Virginia accepted the constitution, it turned down Madison, the champion of that instrument, and elected Monroe to the senate.

James Monroe was born in Westmoreland county, Va., April 28, 1758. He studied for a time in the College of William and Mary, but in 1776 became a lieutenant in a Virginia regiment in the Revolutionary war. He was in the battles of Barren Heights and White Plains and especially distinguished himself in the battle of Trenton, where he was wounded. He then became a major on the staff of Lord Stirling, serving in the battles of Brandywine, Germantown and Monmouth. Because of the fact that he had acted as staff officer he was shut out from further promotion, and after failing to raise a regiment in Virginia he left the army. Thomas Jefferson was then governor of Virginia, and under him Monroe took up the study of law. During the invasion of Virginia, however, he had an active part in raising the militia and gained the title of lieutenant colonel. In 1782 he was elected to the Virginia legislature and was also appointed a member of the executive council.

In 1783 Monroe entered congress, where he advocated an extension of the powers of the body, which proved a first step toward the formation of the constitution. In 1786 he retired from congress and again was elected a member of the Virginia legislature. In which capacity in 1788 he opposed the constitution that was finally adopted on the ground that it was undemocratic and gave too much power to the courts, which were removed too far from the people. In 1790 he was elected to the United States senate and served till 1794, when he was made minister to France.

Monroe reached France while the French revolution was still in progress and was enthusiastic in his expressions of approval of the friends of liberty. This gave offense to Washington, and Monroe was recalled after two years. When he returned to this country he wrote a defense of his conduct, which received the enthusiastic approval of the people of Virginia, who in 1793 elected him governor of the state.

In 1803 President Jefferson sent Monroe to France to negotiate the Louisiana purchase, and after that was carried to a successful conclusion the president commissioned him minister to England. A short time later he went on a diplomatic errand to Spain, after which he returned to England and negotiated a treaty which was the occasion of another controversy and resulted in Monroe's recall. Again he defended his conduct in a pamphlet, and again Virginia showed her approval by electing him governor. He served in this office but a short time, however, when President Madison appointed him secretary of state. In this position he did much to precipitate the war with England, which he was largely instrumental in bringing about.

ing to a successful conclusion. In the darkest days he acted not only as secretary of state, but also as secretary of war, and in 1814 and 1815 the conduct of the campaigns rested largely on his shoulders.

Monroe's first overwhelming election to the presidency occurred in 1816, and in 1820 he was re-elected by practically a unanimous vote, receiving every vote in the electoral college but one. The chief events of his administration were the passage of the Missouri compromise, the promulgation of the Monroe doctrine and the visit of Lafayette to the United States.

In the happier days that are to come, when the bitterness of party prejudice gives way to the common sense and intelligence of independent voting, the death of partyism under President Monroe will be regarded as a forerunner of that better age. If human beings ever learn enough to enthrone permanent peace in the world then Monroe's "era of good feeling" will appear to have been a prophecy of what man can be when he recovers from his obsessions and inequalities.

JAMES MONROE, PRESIDENT AND PATRIOT.

lease of Mme. Lafayette and Thomas Paine from French prisons. He protected the freedom of the South American republics from threatened attack by a European alliance and shielded the independence of these countries permanently by the famous Monroe doctrine. He so alloyed party spirit that his administration was known as the "era of good feeling." He was an ardent patriot who stood for the rule of the people and the rights of man. His character was so pure that Jefferson said it "could be turned wrong side out without showing a blemish to the world."

Perhaps one reason Monroe has never received due credit is that he had no special brilliancy either as writer or speaker. Mere fluency of words, however, does not constitute greatness. Monroe was great in the purity of his character, in his unerring instincts for siding with public good as against private interest and in his intuitive perception of things that would grow to future importance. In their influence on posterity what events were more momentous than the Louisiana purchase and the promulgation of the Monroe doctrine?

The claim made by some shallow and ill informed students that John Quincy Adams wrote the Monroe doctrine is the most arrant nonsense. This is on a par with the idea that Alexander Hamilton wrote Washington's farewell address. Neither claim is true. Both documents were inspired and probably were actually written by the men whose names they bear. President Monroe had long held the views expressed in the Monroe doctrine. They were essentially in keeping with his policy and his other acts. Those were too broad and far-reaching for John Quincy Adams. As a matter of fact, Adams is a much overrated man, while Monroe has been underrated.

How long mankind requires to appreciate its true benefactors! It took centuries for any great portion of the world to accept the Prince of Peace. It was many years before Greece had even a faint realization of the greatness of Socrates and Plato. Galileo waited for a later age to know his worth.

The day is coming and is not far distant when the group of early patriots who favored a people's government, including such men as Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Paine, Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe, Patrick Henry, Samuel Adams and George Mason, will become the patron saints of a new school of liberty. Their concepts of a true republic are as vital today as they were a century ago. They are the ones who remained loyal to the spirit of the Declaration of Independence. The future, which is to be rededicated to the liberty for which they stood, will do justice to these men, just as society finally has done justice to its other benefactors, even though it was centuries after their death.

Monroe was one of the whitest and truest souls in the group. He never swerved in his fealty to the cause of the people. Whether in France or America, he stood unflinchingly for his principles. He opposed what he con-

INDICTMENTS FOUND AGAINST BIG TRUST OFFICIALS

Men high up in the world of finance have been indicted by the federal Grand Jury which has been hearing evidence in New York against officials of the United States Steel Corporation, the Wire Trust, its subsidiaries and many independent steel companies. Among the most prominently mentioned in the indictment are Frank J. Gould and Herbert L. Satterlee, son-in-law of J. Pierpont Morgan, and who is president of the Habirshaw Wire Company, of Yonkers, N. Y.

Charles F. Brooker, vice president of the Ansonia Brass and Copper Company and a member of the Republican National Committee from Connecticut, and Ferdinand W. Roebeling, of John A. Roebeling Sons' Company, are also named.

EXCELLENT ATTRACTIONS FOR GRANVILLE

Among Others, Lyceum Association Has Engaged Famous Italian Baritone and R. P. Hobson.

Granville, July 3.—During the past two years there has been a wonderful amount of interest taken in the Granville Lyceum Association, which has made such progress that there has been a wonderful improvement in the standard of talent presented to the people of Granville and surrounding country. This year the course will consist of five numbers. The association has closed the contracts for the next year's course and has gone in much deeper financially than ever before. The number of entertainments on the course has been reduced from six to five, in order that better talent could be secured.

The association was very fortunate in securing Giuseppe Campanari, the famous Italian baritone, who is so well known in this country. Arrangements have been made to hold this entertainment in the Baptist church so as to accommodate the crowd Campanari has appeared in special roles in most of the Royal Opera Houses of Europe as well as several seasons at Covent Gardens, and has made concert tours with Nordica, Sembrich, Melba, Baines and other great stars. His appearance was only made possible by a financial venture on the part of the association and in conjunction with a trip through this part of Ohio.

The famous Richard Pearson Hobson, whose name usually suggests the sinking of the Merrimac, is conceded to be one of the finest orators in America. He speaks with a fiery eloquence and a sincerity which impresses itself upon even those who are opposed to his views. Edward Amherst Ott, who has become widely known because of his lecture on "Sour Grapes," is another attraction. Dr. George R. Stuart, who has appeared in Newark several times with great success, is Robert Parker Miles, one of the finest lecturers on the American platform, the last of a course which will undoubtedly reach a level never before attained by a lyceum course in Granville.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Lavron of Brainerd, Oklahoma, who have been visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity for some time, have returned home, after having had a most delightful visit.

The regular Saturday evening operatic concert by the Granville Band was enjoyed by hundreds of our people. The members of the band were at their best and rendered a program second to none ever heard in Granville. Hundreds of people were on the streets and enjoyed the fine musical treat. The program was a varied one and every number was well rendered.

BIG QUESTIONS

To Come Up Before Meeting of the Ohio Bar Association at Cedar Point.

Whether the Ohio Bar Association shall favor the appointment by the governor of supreme court judges instead of their election by the people, as at present, and whether the association shall favor the abolition of the circuit court, are among the big questions which the association will thresh out at its annual meeting at the Breakers Hotel, Cedar Point, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, July 11, 12 and 13. These questions are now being submitted, with others, to a referendum-vote of the association.

Important questions of legal reform will be discussed, including those relating to representative government as opposed to direct government, and employers' liability.

FEW CHANGES IN GAME LAW

The Last Legislature Did Not Make Many Important Changes in the Ohio Law.

The changes in the Ohio game laws are few, but the most important are announced as follows by Chief Warden Speake:

The open season for squirrel is changed to September 15 to October 20, with a limit of five for one day's bag.

A new law provides that "no person shall catch, kill or injure any fox from the 1st day of December to the first day of the following September, both inclusive."

Muskat has been designated as a game animal with an open season from January 1 to April 1.

Raccoon has also been placed under the jurisdiction of the fish and game department, with an open season from November 1 to March 1. The law provides that muskrat and raccoon may be killed by the owner of property at any time, except Sunday, when found injuring property. The above were the only changes made.

SHE LEARNED SOMETHING.

"This is a fine coffee," said the visitor to her hostess. "How do you make it? I make mine so and so, but it never tastes like this." "Well," replied the hostess, "I make this the same way, but I've learned something. Maybe you don't keep your coffee pot clean—that is, I mean maybe you use common kitchen soap. I use H.W.'s Easy Task soap. It's pure and clean and white, and costs the same as the poor kinds. Then, too, it makes a nickel-plated coffee pot shine like silver."

One Woman's Way of Gaining Contentment.

A TRUE WANT AD. STORIETTE

(Copyright, 1911 by De Forest Potter)

There's a chance for the woman sick of the noise and the crush and the weariness of the city.

I'm not saying this to tell a pretty cheerful story, because I belonged to the jungle of the business world once and I got what a lot of other women are getting today just three meals a day and a hall bedroom, clothes enough to escape the hands of the law and four hours leisure between 6 p. m. and 10 p. m. in which time I washed, ironed, made shirtwaists, darned stockings, pressed the skirt of my "ready-made" suit and a "hand-me-down" from Aunt Kate, and made over hats when were also "hand-me-downs" from various members of the family.

It's a fine life, isn't it, girls? Just brimming over with inspiration and joy? And how about the future? Ever think of it? I started thinking about that future one day and homesickness filled my heart and my brain. It jammed my illusions. I might have had about the temptation of the city out of existence, so that the only temptation I had was to board the train, stopping at A and all way stations. All I could see day or night for weeks was a little country home coddling under the bosom of a big hill with a garden of flowers in front and a garden of garden "sasses" in the rear. I could see a white-haired woman reading in the late afternoon, without worry and without trouble.

Disguise the fact though you try my dear, passing days, snip off youth and freshness, and where is there a place for an old woman in the business world?

A straight path to an "old ladies' home" was about my speed. I thought the proposition over pretty carefully. Would it be an old ladies' home for me or would I make the old ladies' home of myself? I made up my mind that I would try the latter experiment.

From the minute I made my decision I began to save my money and look for bargains in farms. Where did I look? I knew no other place to look save in the Want Ad Columns of the daily papers. When I came to the city didn't I find my boarding house in that way? When I wanted to buy a farm what better or more all-wise place to look than through the same medium? It had proven its value to me many times over. I found my farm and I'm living at last. It's cuddled under the bosom of a great hill just as I dreamed. There's the garden "sasses" and the posy beds and the woman reading in the late afternoon is myself only. My hair isn't white, because I've had leisure to take care of myself, for I'm a part of God's world now and not a cog in a big machine, lost in its dust and noise. I advertised butter and eggs through the want ad columns and formed my first circle of regular customers. I have a bank account and a home and contentment.

Isn't that better than four hours of leisure, spent in washing, ironing, mending and making over old hats?

Any woman who can make the same chance for herself as I did if she'll open her eyes to the opportunities furnished by the daily papers.

Yours for luck and a good Want Ad Column.

MARIA STETSON

Daddy's Bedtime Story

How the Elephant Spanked the Cow

The Smart Old Cow and How She Was Taught Manners

"PLEASE tell us another story about an elephant, daddy," asked Evelyn as story time came on. "You told us one not long ago about a bad elephant. Let this be about a good one."

"Well," said daddy after thinking a little, "I don't think I know any about a thoroughly good elephant, but I do know about one that certainly had a sense of fun."

"What? That's all right," said Jack.

"I didn't see this," began daddy, "but it was a stock story around my home when I was a boy, and I'm sure it was true."

"It appears that the Johnson family had in its herd of cows an old mulley that was cross beyond description, and as it was afraid of nothing and nobody it was the plague of the Johnson boys' life. A mulley cow, you know, is one that has no horns, but that doesn't keep her from butting."

"One morning the boys were milking away like mad because the circus was coming to town, and they had just finished and were getting ready to drive the cows to pasture when all of a sudden down the road came the circus folks, with the big elephant plodding along in front."

"All the other cows ran mooring up the lane, but old mulley made a bee line, with her head down, for the elephant and bumped him plumb on his side. Of course she didn't hurt the elephant, and he stood still for a minute as if wondering what to do."

"He had never in all his life stood for an insult from an animal before. The fiercest lion or tiger in the menagerie wouldn't have dared to tackle him. And here was a little insignificant cow with the nerve to come up and attempt to fight. Finally his cunning little eyes lit up, and he formed the idea of his revenge."

"Then, lifting his trunk, he gave the smart aleck mulley a slap across her side that sounded like a clap of thunder and must have hurt like fifty whips rolled into one. Mulley turned a couple of flips in the dusty road, and then for the first time in her life she ran. Every once in a while she would turn her head and snort, but she kept on running and was the meekest cow anybody ever saw from that day on."

"I'll bet the Johnson boys were glad," said Jack.

"Well, I always heard they were so glad," said daddy, "that that afternoon at the circus they spent every penny of their pocket money in buying peanuts for the elephant."

The blind, mute and crippled flocked to be treated by one Dr. Newton of Newport, R. I., who termed himself an electrical and spiritual physician.
Martinsburg, Va., was occupied by Union forces.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today.

Floods submerged warehouses and wharfs at Petersburg, Va.
A decision interpreted as going further than any previous ruling protecting authors' property in books was rendered by Judge Hammond of the United States court in copyright litigation over James G. Blaine's "Twenty Years of Congress."

Rival has been named Richard Charles and Grandpa G. H. Kuppinger is one of the happiest men in town and passed around fragrant Havanas to his fellow clerks in the local post office.

Removed to Home.
Mrs. William Lear, who has been taking treatment at the City Hospital during the past two weeks, was removed to her home in Hanover Sunday in Criss Bros. — Jones' ambulance.

Foot Crushed.
Freeman H. L. Amos of the B. & O. railroad, had one of his feet badly crushed while at work on his engine Saturday evening. He was removed to his home, 350 Stanbery St., in Criss Bros. & Jones' ambulance.

Badly Injured.
John Pettit of Homer, fell from the top of the platform of the toboggan slide at Buckeye Lake Park Sunday evening and was badly injured. He became overbalanced and fell off the rail on which he had been sitting. He was rendered unconscious and was carried into the bathing house. A physician was summoned and attended his injuries.

WOMAN'S YELLOW PERIL.
Housewives wonder why the underwear, table linen, bedding and all other washable fabrics wear out—fall to pieces so quickly. It's the strong, yellow soap which cuts through the fibre and weakens it to the tearing point. A pure, wholesome soap need be no more costly than these destructive compounds. Hewitt's Easy Task soap will prove this to be true.

It is a clean, white soap without the impurities of the crude, strong, yellow soaps, and will do the work with half the labor. Five cents a cake. Try it.

Newark vs. South Bend This Afternoon at 3 O'clock

Hammocks and Freezers, Elliott's.

CARSON MEETS OLD FRIENDS AT PENNSY DEPOT

The Pittsburgh and Cincinnati teams of the National League, enroute through Newark Monday morning enroute east. Their train was just ahead of the Pennsylvania train on which the Newark team were riding. With the Pittsburgh team were McCarty and Carey, two Central leaguers sold last season from the platform and shook hands with Dr. Carson on his station platform. Carey and McCarty are both making good with the big league organization which goes to show the class of the Central League organization. Both of these players brought fancy prices to the South Bend aggregation and they were both well worth the money.

Dashes Madly to His Death.
New York, July 3. — A motorman on a Westchester electric open car let his car drop 1,000 feet down a hill with the brakes open, to bang into a car that was backing away at the end of the drop. The motorman was instantly killed by the five passengers got off with slight cuts. A trolley pole was the cause of the disaster. The motorman and conductor of the other car jumped and escaped injury.

Mrs. Shonts Seeks Divorce.
Paris, July 3. — That Mrs. Theodore P. Shonts, wife of the New York capitalist and engineer, who is the head of the Interborough Rapid Transit company of New York, has instituted proceedings for separation under the New York law, was admitted here by Mrs. Shonts' attorney, Mrs. Shonts is staying with her daughter, the Duchess of Chaulnes. She is protected.

Feared Asylum, Ends Life.

Marion, O., July 3. — Chasing his wife out of the house with a shotgun and tearing the telephone off the wall so she could not summon assistance, William Knott, 45, committed suicide by hanging himself at his home. Fear that he would be taken to an insane hospital caused the suicide.

DICKENS' WISDOM.
The voice of Time cries to man, "Advance!" Who seeks to turn him back arrests a mighty engine which will strike the meddler dead. — "The Chimes."

It is a complete answer to those who contend for the gradual degeneration of the human species that every baby born into the world is a finer one than the last. — "Nicholas Nickleby."

There are two classes of charitable people—one, the people who do a little and make a great deal of noise; the other, the people who do a great deal and make no noise at all. — "Blink House."

Accidents will happen, but the best-regulated families know Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for such emergencies. It soothes the pain and heals the hurts.

Supt. J. D. Simkins Nicely Remembered	A very pleasant little affair took place in the office of the superintendent of the Newark public schools on Friday last, when a committee, composed of Misses Kate Murphy, Anna Frye, Mary Kilpatrick, Gertrude Avey and Cora Hanchey, representing the principals and teachers of the grade schools, called on Superintendent J. D. Simkins. After they had rounded up Mr. Simkins, Miss Cora Hanchey, on behalf of the committee, presented Mr. Simkins with a handsome Knight Templar and Shrine chain, as a token of the esteem in which he is held by the principals and teachers. Mr. Simkins responded most feelingly, expressing his sincere thanks for their kindly remembrance.	LOOK AT YOUR GUN.
WON THE WAGER BY ENGAGING IN A WESTERN STUNT	Sunday was some hot, but this fact did not phase George Kimball and he won a bet of 50 cents from Earl Murphy on the weather. The discussion arose in the Elks Club and according to the atmospheric conditions, it waxed warm. As a result of the discussion Mr. Kimball won 50 cents and the sobriquet of "Western" Kimball. ## NEW LIGHT FOR BIBLE STUDENTS

Two Great Babylons and Two Great Captivities.

THE MYSTIC AND THE LITERAL

Pastor Russell Sees Type and Antitype Between Babylon of Old and Mystic Babylon and Between the Captivity of Fleshly Israel and the Captivity of Spiritual Israel—Address at Seattle.

(PASTOR RUSSELL)

Seattle, Wash., July 2.—Bible Students and the public in great numbers heard Pastor Russell here today. We report one of his discourses on the "Two Babylons"—one Literal and the other Mystic. He took no specific text, but relied wholly upon Bible testimony, quoting the same frequently. He said in part:—

For centuries Bible Students have observed that many of the strong expressions of the Old Testament respecting Babylon found their parallels in the New Testament, used in respect to Mystic Babylon. Many of these statements of the Old Testament seem far too vivid and too strong to be applied to Literal Babylon. Hence it was surmised that Mystic Babylon was more particularly referred to than the Literal. It was noticed also that as Israel and Judah went into captivity to Literal Babylon, so apparently the Book of Revelation teaches that Spiritual Israel would have drastic experiences in a captivity to Mystic or Symbolic "Babylon the Great, the Mother of Harlots" (Revelation xvii, 5).

Within the past fifty years, under the blighting influence of the Evolution theory and the destructive Higher Criticism of the Bible, these parallels have been lost sight of. Indeed, aside from International Sunday School lessons, Bible study has been very largely neglected, even in theological seminaries. And the Sunday School lessons, under the guidance of worldly wisdom, have sought to avoid everything except the "milk of the Word" (the simple doctrines) to avoid controversies.

Only very recently is true Bible study being revived in conjunction with the International Bible Students Association, a branch of which I have the honor to address today. We may well congratulate each other, dear friends, that in God's providence we have escaped the faith-destroying influence of Higher Criticism and Evolution. We may well congratulate ourselves also on the degree of liberty we have attained in the study of God's Word—freedom from the confusing creeds manufactured for us in a darker age—freedom from some of the rank superstitions and false theories which, for a time, fettered our reason and made the Divine Plan to appear ignominious—unworthy of a just and loving man, much more of an All-Wise, Just and Loving Creator.

Great Babylon of Old.
Briefly we remind you that ancient Babylon was built on the river Euphrates; that she had impregnable walls; that the river ran through the midst of the city, and the great gates of brass spanned the river as a protection against assaults of an enemy from that quarter. The name of the city was attached to a large area of country outside of it, for which it served as the capital. Indeed, at its zenith Babylon was mistress of the then civilized world—the first Universal Empire.

We remind you of the captivity, first of the ten tribes of Israel, and later on of the remaining two tribes or kingdom called Judah. The method of Babylon was to scatter the Israelites amongst the Babylonians, and through their earthly interests to amalgamate them as part and parcel of Babylonian. This condition of things lasted until the fall of Babylon before its conqueror, Cyrus.

The General gained his victory in a remarkable manner, while the Babylonians, assured of their security, were revelling at a banquet. Although the crisis came suddenly, the preparation had been long in progress. The soldiers of Cyrus, under his direction, had dug a canal of considerable depth ready to drain off the water of the river as soon as the necessary connection was made. When the canal was in readiness the connection with the river was speedily made and the water flowed rapidly into the new channel, leaving the bed of the river under the great brazen gates, on both sides of the city, an open roadway, through which marched the army of Cyrus. Suddenly, at an unexpected moment, the beautiful city, the proud Babylon, was captured.

Then it was that Cyrus, the victorious general, gave the command which granted liberty to every Israelite carried captive thither, to return to his own land. Additionally, assistance was rendered to all who desired to return, and the golden vessels pertaining to the worship of God in the temple were sent back. But strange to say, out of all the millions who had constituted Israel and Judah before the captivity, only about fifty-three thousand of all the tribes were anxious to avail themselves of the privilege of returning to the Land of Promise.

Antitypical or Mystic Babylon.
The Book of Revelation, the book of symbols, the last message of our ascended Redeemer to His Church through the Apostle John, was written long centuries after Literal Babylon perished. Its reference to Babylon, therefore, can be viewed only in the light of symbolism. As already suggested, many of the prophetic utterances seem far too strong to be applied to Literal Babylon and her fall.

Indeed, while speaking directly of Babylon and her fall at the hands of the Medes and Persians under Cyrus, the prophecies speak of the end of this Age and of world-wide calamities incidental to the overthrow of every institution contrary to the Divine will, preparatory to the inauguration of Messiah's Kingdom.

I request that at your convenience you read Isaiah xlii, 1-19, in confirmation of what I have said. I recommend further that you compare Jeremiah 1, 15, 29, with Revelation xviii, 6, and Jeremiah 1, 38, with Revelation xvi, 12, and the 46th verse with Revelation xviii, 9. Compare also Jeremiah 11, 6-9, with Revelation xviii, 4; and verse 13 of Jeremiah 11 with Revelation xvii, 1-15; and verses 37, 63, 64 with Revelation xviii, 2, 4, 21.

No one can make these comparisons, I believe, and not feel fully convinced that the Holy Spirit dictating through Isaiah and Jeremiah was the same Holy Spirit which guided St. John through the Apocalyptic vision. Nor can such students escape the conclusion that the force of the prophecies apply specially to Mystic Babylon rather than to the literal city and country. As one section of Literal Babylon fell before another, so Revelation predicts it will be with Mystic Babylon. As Literal Babylon ruled over the whole world, so Mystic Babylon is represented as ruling the civilized world, and hence the entire world.

As the lords of Babylon were made drunk by wine which they drank from the golden vessels captured from the temple at Jerusalem, so Mystic Babylon, represented by a woman, is said to make all nations drunk with the wine, or doctrine, which she gives them, out of the golden cup which she holds in her hand. As Literal Babylon fell by the drying up of the waters of the Euphrates, so Revelation tells us that Mystic Babylon sits upon the symbolic Euphrates, and that the way of the kings of the East shall be prepared by the drying up of those waters (Revelation xvi, 12).

Similarly, we are assured, Mystic Babylon's end shall come suddenly, "in one hour." Like a great millstone she shall be cast into the sea to rise no more. As the literal Israelites were invited to leave Babylon the literal, and were helped so to do, but only a few responded, so spiritual Israelites are urged to leave Mystic Babylon in which they have been in captivity, but only a comparatively small number have a sufficiency of courage, love and zeal to respond at the first—others will be delivered after her collapse. Now, however, the message is, "Babylon is fallen, is fallen [sentenced to fall]. Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues" (Revelation xviii, 2-5).

Where is Mystic Babylon?
No student can examine the records without astonishment and a realization that Mystic Babylon must be some great, influential system of great power in the world during this Gospel Age, and especially at its close. The very prominence given to Babylon, both in prophecy and in Revelation, warns God's people that if they have not yet found Babylon they should seek for her. For so great an institution as made all nations drunk with her false doctrine must be very prominent, indeed, to those who were made so under the influence of the stupefying draft from her cup.

Indeed, the intimation is that the whole civilized world will be so intoxicated with the false teaching of Babylon as to be completely under her influence. And when she falls it is particularly explained that all the great, rich, the mighty, the influential of earth will mourn the catastrophe of her fall. Only the saintly few will recognize its true import and rejoice; as we read, "Alas! that great city that was clothed in fine linen and purple and scarlet, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls! For in one hour so great riches are come to naught. . . . What city is like unto this great city? And they cast dust on their heads and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas, that great city!" (Revelation xviii, 16-19).

But, on the contrary, another class rejoices, as we read:

"Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye Holy Apostles and Prophets; for God hath avenged you on her. And I heard a voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia! Salvation, and glory, and honor, and power, unto the Lord our God, for true and righteous are His judgments; for He hath judged the great Harlot which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of His servants at her hand" (Revelation xviii, 20, and xix, 1, 2).

It seems very clear, my dear brethren, that many of us were once part and parcel of this great Babylon this great system of confusion by which the Divine character has been so traduced through misinterpretations of the Divine Word. I am aware that Catholics declare that Protestants are this Babylon system; and I am aware that Protestants claim that Catholics are this Babylon system.

To my understanding of the Divine Word, both are right! Babylon is the Mother system and the various sects of Protestantism are the daughters, and the name Babylon is a family name. It belongs to the mother system first, and to all the daughters of the system now, as well. Improper association with the world, its governments and systems, is a crime to which they are parties. The "daughters" have followed the example of the "mother," and more or less are coming back into sympathy with her in all particulars. None of them have maintained the proper attitude of virginity and separateness from the world.

"I Speak Not Unkindly."
Do not misunderstand me. I believe that there are true saints of God in all the various parts of Christendom—mother and daughters. I do not even charge nor believe that those who have upheld and are upholding the various sections of Babylon have an evil intention; I believe that they are thoroughly "drunk," intoxicated with their own erroneous theories. The fall of their present institutions will be a startling blow to them, for they verily believe them to be Christ's Kingdom—and style them such—Christendom.

The fall of Babylon will astonish the entire world, so complete is the illusion that Christendom represents the throne and government of Messiah amongst men. And, be it remembered, the vast majority in all the various sects and denominations of Christendom are worldly people who have no conception whatever of the true Church and her cause. Their ambition is to approximate righteousness and a form of godliness, but no more than this seems to them necessary; more would be irrational, unreasonable, since they have not been begotten of the Holy Spirit and therefore cannot appreciate things from the Divine standpoint.

To them the fall of Babylon at first is astounding, a perplexity, but will work no real injury, because the reign of Babylon over the earth will be superseded by the reign of the New Jerusalem—the Kingdom of God's dear Son. The most saintly of God's people will hear the voice of Divine command, "Come out of her, My people," and will obey it before the fall comes; but a large number, even of the Lord's people, lacking courage, will share with Babylon the troubles of that hour.

Subsequently, however, they will rejoice and be glad when they realize the justice of the Divine execution against Babylon, and to them will come, as an inferior company, an invitation to attend the "marriage supper of the Lamb." Their honorable position will be that of bridesmaids to the still more faithful and courageous "little flock," who will be accounted worthy to be the Bride class and to sit with the Redeemer in His throne. Then speedily will follow the long-promised Times of Restitution to the world of mankind, for which we pray, "Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth, as it is done in heaven."

"Thy Kingdom Come."
As God and His glory and honor are to be first in the minds of His children, so their next thought should be for the glorious Kingdom, which He has promised shall bless the world. However much our own personal interests and affairs may be pressing upon us, and however much we may desire to have the Lord's blessing and guidance in them, they are not to outrank our appreciation of His beneficent arrangements which He has so clearly promised in His Word. We are to remember that the Kingdom, when it shall come, will be a panacea for every ill and every trouble, not only for us, but for the whole world of mankind. We are not, therefore, to permit our own personal needs to be too prominent, but are to remember that the whole creation is groaning and travailing in pain together, waiting for this glorious Kingdom and the blessing upon all the families of the earth, which our Heavenly Father has promised shall yet come through the Seed of Abraham.

This thought respecting the Kingdom, its necessity, and the blessings that it will bring will keep prominently before our minds our own high calling to joint-heirship with our Lord in this Kingdom. And in proportion as that hope is clearly before our minds it will be, as the Apostle explains, as "an anchor to our souls, sure and steadfast, entering into that which is within the veil." This anchorage of hope in the future, in the Kingdom, will enable us to pass safely, and with composure, quiet, through the trials and storms and difficulties of this present evil world. More than this, our thoughts respecting the Kingdom will remind us that if we are to be heirs of the Kingdom it will be necessary that we have the appropriate discipline and training.

"Thy Will Be Done on Earth, as it is Done in Heaven."

This petition offered from the heart implies that the one offering it has made a full consecration of his will, his heart, to the Lord, and that as he hopes for the Kingdom by and by to come and subdue all unrighteousness and to establish the Divine will from sea to sea, and from pole to pole; so now, the petitioner, being thus in accord with the Lord's will, and thus wishing that it might be universally in control, will see to it that this will is ruling in his own heart, that in his own affairs God's will is done to the best of his ability in his earthly condition, even as he hopes to have it perfected in the Kingdom. No one can intelligently and honestly offer this petition and not desire, and endeavor to have the Lord's will done in himself while on earth. Thus a blessing comes to the one who offers this petition before he has asked any special blessing upon himself or others. The mere thought of the Divine arrangement brings a blessing, a peace, a rest, a sanctification of heart.

FORMER PASTOR VISITS NEWARK

Rev. C. W. Sifford, formerly pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, this city, but who left Newark in 1901, has been visiting in the city for the past two or three days. Rev. Mr. Sifford is now located in Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he has a fine congregation. Mrs. Sifford has been in attendance at the General Synod in Washington. Sunday morning he preached a fine sermon to one of the largest congregations that has ever come together in St. Paul's church. All the members of the church were exceedingly glad to greet their former beloved pastor again. Mr. Sifford says that all the members of his family are in the enjoyment of excellent health.

TELLS OF VALUE OF SOIL DEPOSITS IN SWAMP LAND

Chicago, Ill., July 3.—W. L. Park, vice president of the Illinois Central Railway Company and a member of the board of control of the Nineteenth National Irrigation Congress, which meets here this week, is directing the attention of men interested in the congress to what he declares is the best concrete example he has yet found of the agricultural value of the soil deposits in the areas of swamp and overflowed lands, of which there are practically 80,000,000 acres capable of reclamation.

The railway official's case in point has to do with the South Carolina boy, Jerry Moore, 12 years old, who last fall harvested 225 bushels of corn from one acre of ground, establishing a record for the year that made him the champion corn grower of the world.

"This is a record," Mr. Park said, "that will do more for agriculture than any other one accomplishment of similar nature during the last decade. But how did this boy obtain his enormous yield? Simply by going into the swamps near his farm and taking 200 wagonloads of the rich swamp dirt, which he scattered over his field the first winter. This he did that winter merely as a means of fertilizing his land. The second winter he made up his mind to go after the corn raising record, for which a good prize had been offered, so he took 300 wagonloads of swamp dirt the second winter and put it on his field. Following that, in the spring he put 45 wagon loads of manure on the field, then double plowed the field to a depth of 14 inches. All that remained after that was for the corn to grow up, ripen and mark a new record for acre production.

"The simple method followed by young Moore makes easily apparent the crop growing possibilities of our swamp soils and, what is far more important, the reclamation possibilities of our swamp and overflowed localities. There is room in these swamp areas for thousands of farm homes, as reclaimed swamp land, somewhat like irrigated land, is capable of such production that a small acreage is sufficient for one farm home. We estimate that the population of this nation will be 150,000,000 people by 1950, and I believe myself that it will be more than that. For this reason we can see the necessity of furthering swamp land reclamation, as well as all other methods of peopling the localities where fertile lands are non-producing, for these homes will all be needed in years to come. The National Irrigation Congress, long of great influence in the West, now has launched a far-reaching movement by its resolutions passed at recent sessions looking toward definite help for the states containing large areas of swamp lands and by so doing it further establishes itself as a body of national importance, it already having won that place through its efforts and results for the West."

Young Moore, who was sent to Washington, where he met President Taft and other government dignitaries after he had been awarded the corn growing prize, has prepared

"Know why collars crack? Because ravelings from the raw edges of the interlinings get under the irons."

"But Corliss-Coon Collars are different. Cracks don't run in their family. Their interlinings have no raw edges, being bound with an 'overcast stitch.' No ravelings, no cracking."

JACOB KRUMM

Attempted Suicide at His Home at Etna Early This Morning.

Jacob Krumm, aged about 35 years residing in Etna, attempted to commit suicide this morning about three o'clock, by shooting himself in the head, and it is probable that the attempt to take his life will be successful.

Mr. Krumm is a well known farmer living in the village of Etna and is married and has three children. At an early hour this morning one of the neighbors of the Krumm family was startled to find Mrs. Krumm running into his home, announcing that she had found her husband lying in the yard and that he was covered with blood. They hastened to the Krumm home, but in the meantime the wounded man had crawled into his home. A physician was summoned and it was found that he had shot himself through the forehead with a target rifle. The wound is considered fatal.

No reason can be ascribed for the deed. Mr. Krumm stands high in the community. He has met with no reverses of any kind and had no domestic troubles. He is rational at times since the attempt on his life, but refused to discuss his act further than to say that he wished to die.

The bullet is lodged in his head and the doctor holds out no hope for his recovery.

ELEVEN AVIATORS CROSS CHANNEL

London, July 3.—Two years ago this month when Louis Blériot made the first trans-channel aeroplane flight the whole world gasped in amazement. Today 11 aviators made the same flight. Made it in a matter of fact sort of way with such ease and precision that the procession over the channel was almost lacking in interest. The aviators who flew today and added their names to the role of channel flyers were Vedriene, Vidart, Kimmeling, Connell, Valentine, Carros, Kennaux, Gilbert, Tabuteau and Barra.

They were competing in the seventh stage of the European circuit race. Vedriene was the first to cross the channel today.

DROUTH BROKEN IN PORTIONS OF WEST

Temperature Touches Record and Many Are Prostrated.

St. Louis, July 3.—In the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio river valleys crops and pastures are reported burning up, and the weather bureau forecasts but little relief. The maximum temperature was 97 degrees from 3 to 5 at the top of the weather bureau observatory, but the government kiosk thermometer on the street registered 106½. One death and four prostrations were officially reported in St. Louis. The heat drove the wife of William Miller, a prominent farmer near Evansville, Ind., to suicide.

The drouth was broken in parts of the northwest and southwest. Central and South Dakota were swept by tornadoes, accompanied by heavy rains, which greatly benefited the withering crops. The damage to farm buildings was heavy. The two months drouth in central and southern Texas was partly broken by good showers which fell in many localities. The rain in Texas came too late to benefit the corn crop, but proved beneficial to cotton. More rain is indicated in that section. For three days the temperature in Nebraska has ranged from 100 to 108, and there is no indication of a change in the weather.

COOLER BY WEDNESDAY

Hot Wave to Be Broken, Predicts Weather Man.

Washington, July 3.—The coming week will be one of moderate temperatures in the South Atlantic and Gulf states and generally over the region west of the Mississippi river. High temperature will prevail the first part of the week in the northern and middle states east of the Mississippi river, followed by a change to lower temperature in these districts about Wednesday.

A barometric depression that now covers the Rocky mountain region will drift slowly eastward, preceded and attended by local showers and thunderstorms, and cross the Mississippi valley Tuesday or Wednesday and the Atlantic states Thursday or Friday. It will be followed by cooler weather over the plains states to the Mississippi valley and the region east thereof.

Fourteen Die at Chicago.

Chicago, July 3.—All Chicago sweltered in the hottest day of the year. Fourteen deaths were recorded and there were hundreds of prostrations. The official weather thermometer in the tower registered 98 degrees, while thermometers at the street level registered 107.

Eight prostrations at Cincinnati. Cincinnati, O., July 3.—Cincinnati passed through one of the hottest days of the past several years when the thermometer registered 103. Eight prostrations were reported.

Fifty-six Perish in Wreck. London, July 3.—The Norwegian steamship Eclipse foundered north of Iceland and 56 persons perished. The date of the disaster is not given, and the line's agents are not inclined to discuss the matter.

Whales Follow Ship.

New York, July 3.—A school of whales accompanied the French liner La Touraine for two hours in daylight off the banks, just after the passengers had been enjoying the coolness of several large icebergs about five miles to the north of the liner. The whales seemed to regard the Touraine as a bigger brother, and were so close to her that a group of women on the promenade deck threw paper balls at them.

Collins Out of Game.

Philadelphia, July 3.—Eddie Collins of the Athletics was taken to the Pennsylvania hospital, where the X-ray was put on his dislocated shoulder. The photograph taken failed to show any broken bones, but the dislocation is severe. Eddie carries his arm securely bound in a sling. He will not be able to play for several days.

Political Character Dies.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 3.—William J. Thompson, "Duke of Gloucester," political dictator of New Jersey 20 years ago and owner of Gloucester racetrack, died at Belfast, Ireland, his birthplace, to which he returned broken in health, entangled financially and with all his old prestige gone.

Autos Meet Head-On.

Troy, N. Y., July 3.—Two big automobiles, one a Winton, owned by W. B. Crisp, a lawyer of New York, and the other in charge of W. M. Crounse, manager for the Buick company in Albany, collided head-on on the state road passing Crooked lake. With Mr. Crisp were his wife and Mr. Crisp had two ribs broken and Mrs. Crisp had two ribs broken and Mrs. Wood received a bad cut over the left eye. One of the party Leo Lash, 11, son of Leopold W. Lash, a tailor of Albany, had his face split open from the forehead through both jaws, and died in the Troy hospital. Mrs. Schumaker, wife of Peter Schumaker, clerk of the supreme court in Albany, is suffering confusion of the brain, but it is believed she will recover.

Customs House Pours Golden Stream Into Treasury.

New York, July 3.—A comparative statement of collections at this port from taxes, penalties, offers in compromise and forfeitures makes the fiscal year ending on Friday the biggest on record for the custom house. The collections from the sources above mentioned were $2,914,158.55. The collections in the preceding year were $1,507,731.14. The duties collected last year on passengers' baggage were $2,305,562.20. The collections from the same source in 1910 and 1899 were respectively $1,448,344.48 and $709,897.

TEST COMES TONIGHT

Will Woman Mayor Have Nerve to Arrest Councilmen?

Hunnell, Kan., July 3.—Mrs. Ella Wilson, the woman mayor of this city, says that she will hold a council meeting this evening, at which all members of her council will be present. She has received advices from Governor Stubbs to the effect that if any of her councilmen refuse to attend the meeting, duly called, she is to arrest them and place them on bond to appear at this and subsequent meetings.

Columbus Prefers Horses.

Columbus, O., July 3.—Being unable to find a new contractor to collect the mail by autos, the local post-office department was compelled to return to the old horse and wagon method used prior to the advent of the automobile deliver. It now requires 11 men, horses and wagons to do the work done by seven men and four autos, and more time is required to do it.

Stabbed in Youngstown Street.

Youngstown, O., July 3.—L. W. Lafaerty of Jeanette, Pa., was found on the street here with a stiletto wound in his right side. He died while being removed to a hospital. Lafaerty's assailants escaped and the police are now scouring the city for them. It is believed that his slayers were Italians, and three other men are being sought as witnesses.

Noted Shoemaker Dies.

Marysville, O., July 3.—Joseph Cooper, shoemaker, 95, Marysville's oldest citizen, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Taborn. Cooper had the distinction of having made boots for three presidents, Jackson, Van Buren and Tyler; also General Winfield Scott, Stonewall Jackson, General Lee and other noted men.

Finds Firecracker; In Hospital.

Cleveland, O., July 3.—While playing on the dumping grounds with several companions, 10-year-old Walter Kopp found a giant firecracker. A few minutes later he ignited its fuse and was badly injured and powder-burned in the explosion that followed. At Lakeside hospital it was said the boy would recover.

Fall Fatal to Girl.

Steubenville, O., July 3.—Mary Simco, a little Hungarian girl, while playing at Mingo Junction fell over a high cliff, a distance of 50 feet, landing on a pile of rubbish. When she was picked up it was found a spike driven through a board had penetrated her skull. Her death occurred within a few hours.

INDEPENDENCE DAY THE FOURTH OF JULY

Old Glory should be displayed from the homes of patriotic Americans, from business houses and all public buildings.

It is the emblem of our nationality which was first announced to the world on July 4th, 1776.

July 4th is pre-eminently our national Flag Day. The Declaration of Independence created the necessity for a National Flag.

The National color should be treated with that reverence and honor due to the National emblem of a great nation.

The National Flag Association, The Grand Army, The Daughters of Veterans and The Revolutionary War Associations, and other patriotic bodies have adopted the following rule in regard to the treatment of our flag:

It is improper and illegal to use the Stars and Stripes, or pictures of it as advertisements.

Nothing should be written on or attached to the national color.

The flag should be hung with the field upward on the flag staff or outward from the building or object from which it is attached. This rule is often violated.

It is a desecration to use the flag as a garment, a cover for furniture, a wrapper for goods, a carpet for show windows and as an ornament for handkerchiefs, napkins, etc.

$4,500 IN PRIZES UP FOR REGATTA

BUCKEYE LAKE YACHT AND CAMERA FISHING CLUBS

Will Hold All Kinds of Boat Races at the Lake on the Fourth—Big Crowds Expected.

Arrangements for the Fourth of July free-for-all regatta on Buckeye Lake, under the auspices of the Buckeye Lake Yacht Club and the Camera Fishing Club are completed, and officials feel that it will be the largest ever held under the joint auspices of the clubs. Numerous prizes aggregating $4,500 have been donated and a large list of entries is expected. The regatta is not for members of the club only, but is open to every boat on the lake.

There are now on Buckeye Lake 24 sail, 300 power and more than 1000 rowboats, and it is expected that most of them will be in the water on Tuesday, either to participate in or witness the races. The first event is called for 9 a. m. and the last event on the program is scheduled for 5 p. m.

The chief prize will be the Ohio Electric trophy cup, won last year by Dr. James O. Latham, and now chief trophy in the handicap power boat race. The owner of the power boat winning this cup three years will keep it. Other prizes are the D. L. Auld Co. silver cup in the free-for-all power boat race; the Neil House sterling trophy cup, first prize in the women's catboat race, and the Sackett Mine Supply Company silver trophy cup, second prize; the Hoster Brewing Company silver cup in the free-for-all sail race; the Dispatch silver trophy cup in the sloop race; the William M. Frisbie cup in the crawfish race; the Ohio Brewing Co. silver cup in the first catboat race, and the Ohio State Journal cup in the second catboat race.

Judges will be Commodore George F. Mooney, J. A. Auld, C. E. Sutter, Andrew Spittler, F. Reinmund, Daniel Carroll, H. D. Freeman, Frank Mooney, William Carroll, W. O. Chaffee, Carl Koch, J. F. Cherry and D. A. Alsbach.

The first catboat race, in addition to the regular prizes, will count one point toward the season trophies donated by the Goodman Bros., the Washington Brewing Company and the Chittenden Hotel.

THE LUXURY OF A LAKE TRIP

Where will you spend your summer vacation? Why not enjoy the charms of our inland seas, the most pleasant and economical outing in America?

WHERE YOU CAN GO

All the important ports on the Great Lakes are reached regularly by the excellent service of the D. & C. Lake Lines. The ten large steamers of this fleet are of modern steel construction, and have all the qualities of speed, safety and comfort.

Daily service is operated between Detroit and Cleveland, Detroit and Buffalo; four trips weekly between Toledo, Detroit, Mackinac Island and way ports; daily service between Toledo, Cleveland and Put-in-Bay.

A Cleveland to Mackinac special steamer will be operated two trips weekly from June 15th to September 10th, stopping only at Detroit every trip and Goderich, Ont. every other trip.

Special Day Trips between Detroit and Cleveland, during July and August

RAILROAD TICKETS AVAILABLE—Tickets reading via any rail line between Detroit and Buffalo and Detroit and Cleveland will be honored for transportation on D. & C. Line Steamers in either direction.
